

The Daily Gazetteer.

NUMB. 3082

SATURDAY DECEMBER 24, 1743.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from France.

Rome, December 7.

On the 5th of this Month Cardinal Crescenzi, who arrived here a few Days ago from France, made his Publick Entry with prodigious Splendour; and afterwards received, in a publick Consistory, his Red Hat from the Hands of the Pope. On the 6th we had Advice from Sinigaglia, that on the 29th of last Month the Spaniards took Possession of the Place with a Body of 4000 Horse and Foot, which are to quarter there all the Winter. One of the Keys of the City Gates has been deliver'd up to the Spanish Officer who commands, but the other remains in the Hands of the Officer who is at the Head of the Pope's Troops, who are retired into the Citadel.

Madrid, December 9. His Majesty has not hitherto disposed of either of the Companies of Guards that are vacant; but it is thought, that the Command of the Italian Guards will be bestowed on the Prince of Campo Florido; and that of the Spanish, on the Marquis de Moncada, Brother to the Conde de Montijo; or to the Marquis de Villena, Nephew to the late Marquis of Bedmar. It is generally believed, that the Duke d'Arcos will marry the Daughter of the late Duke of Berwick, notwithstanding the Treaty formerly on Foot between that Lady and the Duke de Miranda, who was near 60 Years of Age; whereas the Duke d'Arcos is much of the same Age with the young Lady, and, consequently, the properer Match of the two.

Frankfort, December 25. His Imperial Majesty has actually issued Money for remounting his Cavalry; and has likewise directed three Squadrons to be added to the Walloon Regiment of Dragoons, and a like Augmentation is talked of among the Cavalry. Among other strange Pieces of News which fly about here, there is one that alarms us excessively. Baron Pahlm, the Queen of Hungary's Minister, is expected here every Moment; and we are told, that the Business of his Journey is to get himself received into the Dyet; which must be attended with very high Debates, and a great deal of Confusion. There happened, a few Days ago, an odd Adventure from hence. Colonel Mentzel sent a Party of 37 Hussars to carry off Capt. Wedgely, who lately deserted from the Queen of Hungary's Service, and was made a Colonel by the Emperor. These Hussars sent the Colonel Word, that they were ready to come over to him, provided he would make good Terms for them, and bring them a little Ready Money. Mr. Wedgely did not think fit to trust himself with them, but sent the Money by a Lieutenant and Cornet, with full Power to settle their Terms. The Hussars presently seized these Officers, and were going to carry them off, when the Colonel, who thought they staid a long Time, appeared in sight; but two or three Hussars advancing too hastily towards him, gave him Reason to suspect their Design; upon which he galloped back, and escaped by the Swiftness of his Horse.

Extract from the Paris Alaman.

Paris, December 27. On the 24th of this Month Five Edicts, or Declarations from the King, were made Publick.

The first Edict re-established all the Duties on Goods entered in Paris, that subsisted in the Month of May, 1715.

The Second directed the raising of 450,000 Livres on the Town-House, in Satisfaction for the Tax settled for lighting the Streets; and made some other Provisions for raising Money in the Nature of Excise; and the rest of the Edicts were of a like Tendency.

They write from Frankfort, that there arrived there daily Numbers of Austrian Hussars, who enter into the Emperor's Service; and that there are amongst them, frequently, Officers, who do the same Thing. The Duke de Rochecouart de Mortemar, Son to the late Duke, who was kill'd in the Battle of Dettingen, died here on the 21st, at the Age of Three Years and Ten Months. This young Nobleman was a Grandee of Spain of the First Class, and First Gentleman of the Bed-Chamber to the King.

It is strongly reported here, that the Duke de Gramont, Colonel of the Regiment of French Guards, will part with that Command; and that this Nobleman will, in Consideration of his resigning that Regiment, be declared First Gentleman of the Bed-Chamber to the King, in the room of the Duke de Rochecouart.

Extract from a Private Letter.

Paris, December 27. His Majesty, in his Edict for Taxing the great Officers of the Law, and other Persons in Posts, declares, That as the present Necessity of his Affairs obliges him to raise Money upon his People, so he could not think of any Method more easy, than taking it from such as he knew could very well spare it.

Cardinal Tencin grows every Day more and more in the King's Favour, tho' he is wise enough to hide it, as much as it is in his Power. He has a visible Ascendency over the rest of the Ministry; and, it is certain, that by his Notions will be regulated the Negotiations of Peace, or the Operations of the next Campaign.

The King has charged the Archbishop of Bourges with the Care of converting Count Maurice of Saxony to the Catholick Faith; of which, as soon as he shall declare himself, he will be made Marshal of France; and the Prelate, in return for the Pains he must take in this Affair, will be rewarded by the Pope with a Red Hat; and some People think, that both these extraordinary Events are at no great Distance.

*Amidst contending Parties Strife for Sway, Eager to Rule, reluctant to Obey,
How just, how noble, must His Conduct seem,
Whom All unite to honour, and esteem!
This blissful Fate, this Happiness Divine!
Has Heav'n reserv'd, to crown a Life like Thine;
This the Reward sublimer Virtues claim,
Uneasy'd Honours, and unspotted Fame.
So shines the unexhausted Source of Day,
Celestial Light his vital Beams display;
Ev'n to the frozen Poles his Power is blest,
Ador'd and worship'd by the wond'ring East;
Like Thine, his Brightness reconciles Extremes,
And All agree to bless his bounteous Beams.
Integrity in fairest Light confess,
Lives in the sacred Centre of thy Breast:
O never, never! from her Laws depart;
So reign confess'd, the Friend of ev'ry Heart.
Fix'd on her solid Base, thy Worth shall stand,
And Britons bless thy delegated Hand;
Ev'n restless Faction shall ensure thy Peace;
And only Heav'n, thy Happiness increase.*

THE Third and Fourth VOLUMES of BIBLIOTHECA HARLEIANA.
The Office which has been undesignedly given, by setting a Price upon the Harleian Catalogue, makes it necessary to lay before the Publick, the Reason for which a Method so unusual is taken; which is not to extort from the Learned and it is of no Use, which cannot be permitted without great Inconvenience; there being not many more printed of these Volumes, than will complete the Setts of those who have been pleased to purchase the former: It is therefore proposed, that lumes, shall be at Liberty to return them within three Months

An Infallible REMEDY For BROKEN-WINDED HORSES,
Which has been published and sold many Years before any Counterfeits in other Forms appeared; and highly commended from one Friend to another. The vast Quantities that have been sold do also verify its Efficacy and Virtues, for it most perfectly cures them, after all others Means have been infected, to a Wonder, in a small time, without Cause-ment; by attenuating and opening the Globules of the Lungs dried up, and all the Passages obstructed by Humors dripping thereon, occasion'd by hard Riding, Colds, &c. It causes presently a free Perspiration, renewing its Force, Vig-our and Length again, as well as ever.
It immediately cures those Horses only a little touch'd in their Wind, as also all continued Coughs, Colds, Wheezing, &c. being excellent in preventing many other Distempers incident unto them, by maintaining, preserving, and continuing a good Breath.
And in a word, by this very Medicine alone, many Horses have been made so perfectly sound, that they have been sold and valued from 10 to 30 or 40 Pounds, which by being Broken-winded, could not before be sold for 3 or 4 Pounds.
It is sold at Mr. Sandwell's Toy-Shop at the Griffin, the Corner of Buckler's-Bury in the Poultry, at 4 s. 6 d. the Quint Bottle, with Directions for taking it; and no where else in England.
